RE: 1444/Tucson Commerce Center

To Whom It May Concern:

Brinkmann hired K2 Electric for design build services and a complete electrical package install for the new construction of the Tucson Commerce Center Project, in Tucson Arizona. The project consisted of three sperate Industrial warehouse buildings running concurrently – and totaling over 800,000 square feet. K2 and their team went above and beyond to find solutions to procurement lead time issues which are way too common in today's market. They also took it upon themselves to present time saving solutions that not only expedited the schedule but enhanced the product presented to the customer.

K2 Electric excels in thinking outside of the 'industry standard' allowing for a quick design turnaround, without sacrificing quality. These traits set them a notch higher than most. One of Brinkmann's mottos is "Look Beyond the First Right Answer." K2's team skillfully helped us to achieve this goal. It would be my pleasure to work with K2 Electric again.
